ACCESS TO DECENT WORK FOR REFUGEES AND OTHER FORCIBLY DISPLACED PERSONS

PROMOTING INCLUSIVE POLICY RESPONSES

OVERVIEW

SNAPSHOT OF THE COURSE

Globally, more than 70 million people are forcibly displaced by conflict, violence and human rights violations, overwhelmingly in emerging economies. The wider socio-economic consequences of forced displacement have triggered intense global debates on how to develop appropriate and sustainable policy responses to these challenges.

The course is based on the ILO's 2016 Guiding Principles on the access of refugees and other forcibly displaced persons to the labour market, ILO standards, other human-rights instruments and existing good practices.

This course is for policymakers and practitioners seeking to design and implement measures to facilitate the access of refugees and other forcibly displaced persons to the labour market, and to promote inclusive employment strategies and policies.

WHAT

WHAT TOPICS DOES THIS COURSE COVER?

This blended course provides an overview of different measures that aim to facilitate access to employment for refugees and other forcibly displaced persons.

- Key concepts and dynamics related to forced displacement, as well as the importance and impact of employment on livelihoods and self-reliance
- International legal and normative frameworks, as well as legislative and administrative conditions and practices governing and enabling access to labour markets
- Employment policies, strategies, and instruments that enable access to decent work
- The course is underpinned by five case studies – Colombia, Ethiopia, Jordan, South Africa, and Turkey – which provide an important vehicle for the delivery of the course.

WHAT WILL I LEARN?

Participants practice promoting short- and long-term strategies and programmes for inclusive employment creation.

- Understanding the impact of refugees and other forcibly displaced persons on labour markets
- How human rights law and international labour standards provide decent work and social protection
- The importance of including host communities in new strategies for employment creation in the formal labour market

WHAT WILL I BE ABLE TO DO?

By the end of the course, participants address labour market issues and promote employment-based responses to refugee situations.

- Identify specific challenges and opportunities, including the gender dimension of access to decent work and self-reliance
- Utilize international human rights and refugee legal frameworks, including fundamental principles and rights at work and the ILO's 2016 Guiding Principles
- Propose relevant legal and policy options to improve labour market access at the local and national levels
- Access tools and methodologies to address the labour market impacts and promote employment-based responses to refugee situations
