E-COACHING ON SOCIAL PROTECTION

TOWARDS RESPONSIVE SYSTEMS

OVERVIEW

SNAPSHOT OF THE COURSE

As governments around the world take urgent action to save lives and protect livelihoods from the COVID-19 pandemic, leveraging, adapting or introducing new social protection measures are central to country immediate and medium-term responses. With one in two people in the world not benefiting from any form of social protection, this is an unprecedented challenge. Drawing on the ILO's knowledge and expertise, this e-learning programme offers you the opportunity to further strengthen your competences on social protection in the context of the global emergency, learn about best practices and get on the job technical support through e-coaching. As a result, you will be able to devise more responsive and sustainable social protection interventions to help your country weather the current health crisis and mitigate the longer-term social and economic impacts on the most vulnerable groups.

WHAT

WHAT WILL I LEARN?

This new e-Learning programme offers a flexible and phased learning experience to enable a wide range of professionals to better respond to changing social protection needs in the context of the COVID-19 pandemic.

- Social protection fundamentals: principles, concepts and challenges in developing and implementing responsive social protection interventions in the current context
- Country responses to the COVID-19 pandemic: getting real time data and information from experts and a global network of social protection professionals
- Best practices and lessons learned: exploring and analysing the most innovative, effective and sustainable measures currently implemented around the world
- High-quality 'real time' online tuition: get access to social protection technical experts and sector specialists through asynchronous and synchronous online tuition
- Focus on a specific area of work: select a specific area of work depending on your needs and context from a range of interventions including social health protection, contributory and non-contributory schemes and responses
- On the job technical support: provided through tailored one to one e-coaching by technical experts.

WHAT WILL I BE ABLE TO DO?

- Understand key principles, concepts and challenges to update and enhance your social protection competences within the framework of the unfolding crisis
- Review and analyse best practices in country responses to the COVID-19 pandemic and how they might apply to your own context
- Apply learning to your context by conducting a needs assessment to identify possible social protection interventions and coverage gaps

- Undertake a social protection policy analysis and formulate evidence-based recommendations to increase the effectiveness of your social protection system
- Develop a responsive social protection intervention with support from sector experts through dedicated distance coaching sessions.

HOW

This programme consists of a number of online modules as well as an e-coaching component for an estimated total of 60 learning hours over a period of 12 weeks.

The programme is divided into four distinct phases:

- Phase 1 - Social Protection fundamentals in light of COVID-19 (2 weeks, 12 learning hours): Optional online self-paced modules including interactive sessions and engaging video presentations on key social protection models, issues and challenges within the current context.
- Phase 2 – Best practices and lessons learned (2 weeks, 12 learning hours): This phase will consist of two interrelated learning streams:
 - Themed live webinars with highly qualified experts to present case studies, identify best practices and discuss lessons learned in COVID-19 country responses;
 - Peer-to-peer real time knowledge sharing and learning through individual and collaborative exercises, synchronous interactive online sessions and technical forums to build communities of practice.
- Phase 3 - Contextual analysis and responses (2 weeks, 12 learning hours): You will be asked to complete a technical note on the policy implications and responses to the current crisis in your own context. You will:
 - Select a specific area of focus for the technical note
 - Digitally collaborate with peers to inform your work
 - Have your work peer assessed
- Phase 4 – On the job e-coaching (6 weeks, 24 learning hours): Participants who successfully complete Phase 3 of the programme will be allocated an expert e-coach based on their area of focus. This will support you to learn on the job in order to develop and implement effective and responsive social protection interventions. The e-coaching module will comprise:
 - One-to-one coaching sessions
 - Guided peer-to-peer coaching sessions.

Participants will also have the option of enrolling on a Virtual Reality (VR) version of the programme. Applied to Phases 3 and 4 of the course, VR state of the art technology will allow participants to be immersed in highly interactive and lifelike engaging e-coaching sessions.
