INTRODUCTION TO THE COURSE

The course provides key insights and up-to-date information on current and future mega-trends influencing skills development and TVET in the COVID and post-COVID era. Specifically, it analyses the implications for TVET Centres in relation to a series of topics and challenges that have been deepened and/or amplified in the last 18 months such as the green transition, the digital transformation, the labour migration and demographic changes, and other key developments of the social and economic global picture. Furthermore, this programme examines concrete options to improve the relevance of TVET Centres' offer and enhance the responsiveness of training institutions to the demands of their ecosystems.

This eLearning training offer is part of ITCILO's Skills Development portfolio, which targets worldwide capacity building needs to support the implementation of TVET and skills development programmes.

WHO ATTENDS THIS COURSE?

- Directors and managers of vocational training centres;
- Policy makers and technical advisors of Ministries working in the area of vocational training Centres' management;
- Members of skills councils, national TVET authorities or similar institutions;
- Representatives of workers' and employers' organizations involved in vocational training delivery;
- Experts and technical staff from CSOs, NGOs and other civil society actors, working in the field of skills development and TVET.

OBJECTIVES

By the end of the eLearning programme, participants will have acquired a holistic understanding of key topics shaping Technical and Vocational Education and Training in the COVID and post-COVID era. In particular, participants will have:

- Analysed a number of mega trends impacting the world of work and training;
- Developed a thorough understanding on the importance of shaping TVET Centres' response for better employment outcomes in the current context;
- Examined specific measures, mechanisms and approaches for the design and implementation of relevant TVET vis-à-vis the global mega trends.

MODULES

This course will consist of the following learning units:

- Module 1: Systemic Approach to Skills Development
- Module 2: Digital transformation in TVET
- Module 3: Labour migration and recognition of prior learning (RPL)
- Module 4: A holistic approach to Greening TVET
- Module 5: Skills anticipation and matching
- Module 6: Facilitating school-to-work transition through Quality apprenticeships
- Module 7: TVET Centre and a lifelong learning approach: financing new services

FORMAT AND METHODOLOGY

This innovative e-learning course has been designed according to a learner-centred approach in order to better involve participants and keep them motivated. It is highly interactive and engaging, using different methods throughout the seven modules of the course to make the content interesting, relevant and entertaining.

After the participant has completed each module and submitted the assignment through the course platform, a tutor will provide feedback and the participant will be given access to the next module. Participants who successfully complete the assignments required (one per each module) and have developed a short final assignment will receive a Certificate of Achievement.

LANGUAGE

Participants will be required to have a good knowledge of written English or French, as training materials will be available on the e-platform in those languages.
