FINANCING DEVELOPMENT
NAVIGATING THE LANDSCAPE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS
AND MECHANISMS

5 JULY – 6 AUGUST 2022

Information Note
Achieving ambitious 2030 Agenda requires scaling up domestic and global resources. It also demands a shift from funding the SDGs to a wider financing approach through a blend of public, private, domestic and international resources.

SDGs are being increasingly integrated into public budgets and development cooperation, and financial markets and investors have positively reacted to a stronger integration of the SDGs in public and private investment decisions. However the gaps in financing SDGs remain large. Financing has not yet been adequately reaching the geographies and people that need them the most.

This new course is organized with the Joint SDG Fund and aims at building the capacities of a wide range of national actors and development partners in an area of financing development.

KEY FEATURES

LEARN ONLINE
A series of self-paced elearning modules combined with interactive live webinars

RESOURCES
Tap in the knowledge of the speakers from the Joint SDG Fund, UN agencies, financial sectors and public actors

ACTIVITIES
Learn from the experiences, case-studies and examples

ASSIGNMENT
Draft a 2-4 page concept note for a chosen blended finance mechanism

INTRODUCTION TO THE COURSE
A number of financial instruments and mechanisms have emerged to create scalable and effective ways and leverage diverse sources of finance to channel them towards achieving the SDGs. The recent prominence of the financing development agenda leads to an increasing need to keep up with the opportunities and risks emerging in this arena. The aim of this course is to build the capacities of various actors in understanding the changing context of financing development as well as issues of design and applicability of various financing mechanisms in support of the SDGs. The course also brings together some of the key learnings and practices for designing and implementing financing mechanisms for development.
WHO ATTENDS THIS COURSE?

- Government agencies
- Staff of UN agencies
- Financing organizations
- Private sector actors interested in development and sustainability
- Non-profit entities
- Wider development community

WHAT WILL YOU LEARN?

By the end of the course, participants will have:

- Navigated the landscape of financing development and discussed the role and functions of various actors engaged
- Explored the Integrated National Financing Frameworks (INFF)
- Recognized the rationale behind use of blended finance for development objectives
- Become introduced to a set of financing mechanisms used for development
- Applied the course content to design a financing mechanism in their own contexts

COURSE FRAMEWORK AND MODALITY

The e-learning course will be implemented over a period of 5 weeks and is structured around 4 content modules with activities and assignments.

An equivalent of 1 day of learning is foreseen in each calendar week as a combination of self-paced learning and webinars. Self-learning modules can be taken flexibly, while the webinar will be scheduled as interactive live sessions.

- Equivalent of 24 hours of learning
- Combination of 9 webinars and 9 self-learning lessons
  - Webinars in Zoom: combination of facilitator’s input, speakers presentations, discussions with the group and some review of the materials from self-learning modules
  - Self-learning lessons in Articulate Rise: materials, mini-cases, activities, examples, polls and quizzes.
- Course assignment: participants develop a 2 to 4 pages concept note for a blended finance instrument.
- Delivery throughout 5 weeks
COURSE CONTENT

The course is designed around 4 thematic modules and the final assignment.

- Module 1: Current development and need for financing. This module covers ongoing discussions in the area of financing development. Key concepts and definitions, sources of financing, the role of public and private sectors will be discussed along with various initiatives and dialogues taking place at the global level.

- Module 2: SDG Financing enabling environment. INFFs. In this modules the Integrated National financing Frameworks will be introduced and discussed along with other SDG finance policy processes and tools.

- Module 3: Blended finance principles and mechanisms. The module covers the basis and scope of blended finance instruments and mechanisms, accompanied with a deeper look at several selected mechanisms addressing various SDGs.

- Module 4: Designing blended finance mechanisms. This final module will cover the process of designing the mechanisms, along with lessons learned regarding development of proposals with an inclusion of a blended finance instrument.
