ACCESS TO DECENT WORK FOR REFUGEES AND OTHER FORCIBLY DISPLACED PERSONS

PROMOTING INCLUSIVE POLICY RESPONSES

OVERVIEW

SNAPSHOT OF THE COURSE

According to the latest available global estimates, more than 110 million people are displaced by persecution, conflict, violence, and widespread human rights violations, especially in emerging economies. The ever-changing nature of forced displacement has wider socio-economic repercussions and implications, and global debates are still grappling with the challenge of how to develop appropriate and sustainable policy responses. The course is based on the ILO's 2016 Guiding Principles on the access of refugees and other forcibly displaced persons to the labour market, ILO standards, other human-rights instruments and existing good practices. This course is for policymakers and practitioners seeking to design and implement measures to facilitate the access of refugees and other forcibly displaced persons to the labour market, and to promote inclusive employment strategies and policies.
