WHAT

WHAT WILL I LEARN?

- To gain a theoretical understanding of the core role and various functions of pension systems
- To learn about design choices for different kinds of pension schemes (contributory and non-contributory) and how they can be integrated
- To critically analyze case studies of pensions reforms in terms of their impacts on coverage, adequacy and sustainability and gender-responsiveness
- To apply acquired analytical skills and knowledge to formulation of pension design and reform proposals for specific country contexts
- To participate more actively in the financial management of your pension scheme

WHAT TOPICS DOES THIS COURSE COVER?

- The role and functions of pension systems and how they can be achieved through different mixes of pension schemes
- Analysis of global and regional trends in outcomes of pension systems (coverage, adequacy and sustainability) and approaches to design and reform
- Design options for contributory and tax-financed social pensions, and lessons on best practice
- Key determinants of the cost of pension systems and impact long term financial sustainability
- Country case studies assessing success and failure of pension policy formulation and reform
- International Labour Standards and how they can be used to benchmark the effectiveness of pension systems
- Gender and ageing and gender-responsive pension systems.

METHODOLOGY

The course will employ a combination of group work, e-lectures, panel discussions and interactive exercises. An eCampus platform will be used to support participants' preparation before, during and after the course. Technology will be integrated throughout the course to ensure interactivity.

WHY

WHY SHOULD I JOIN?

- Put learning into practice through an Integrated Applied Exercise focused on your own national context
- Participants join and interact with a diverse network of professionals engaging in pension issues
- The course uses a mix of online training methods: lectures, plenary discussions, good practices, case studies, group work, and individual exercises.

This course is an eligible course for the Diploma for Social Protection Managers. To achieve the Diploma, successful candidates must complete four courses within a five-year period and undertake a capstone assessment.

WHO ATTENDS THIS COURSE?

The course is designed for executives, managers, planners and other responsible professionals working in the field of pension and social protection policy and administration. The training will include a diverse range of participants from both in government and non-governmental sectors, including employers' and workers' organizations and civil society organizations.
